

Magic carpets for the season

By Georgette Gouveia - March 28, 2023

Fayette Studio in Greenwich has partnered with interior designers Annie Mandelkern and Allybello for two separate collections inspired by the season.

Fayette Studio in Greenwich, a leader in custom and bespoke rugs, curates the trends of the season, including bold, saturated colors and neutrals with pops of color. Photographs courtesy Fayette Studio.

With spring now sprung, it's a good time to upgrade your space. But you don't have to tackle a full renovation to bring in some fresh, playful details. Fayette Studio in Greenwich is a leading provider of bespoke rugs, catering specifically to the trade with a vast array of design-forward options, from flatweaves to the hand-knotted, making customization possible for almost any rug type.

In honor of spring and summer, Fayette has released some trend insights, based on what's popular at the moment for interiors. They include bold, saturated colors, repeat patterns, organic shapes with neutral accents and textures, neutrals with pops of color, bordered rugs and funky yet fluid patterns and shapes.

Additionally, the brand has partnered with two designers, Annie Mandelkern and Allybello, for two separate collections inspired by the season.